- Generally, you must file Forms 1094-C and 1095-C with the IRS by February 28 if filing on paper or March 31 if filing electronically, of the year following the calendar year to which the return relates.
 - o If the due date falls on a weekend or legal holiday, then the due date is the following business day. A business day is any day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday.
- For calendar year 2020 filings, Forms 1094-C and 1095-C must be filed by March 1, 2021, or March 31, 2021, if filing electronically

Extensions of the Filing Due Date

- As of November 2020, the IRS had not announced any blanket extensions for filing the forms beyond what is allowed in the instructions.
- You can get an automatic 30-day extension of time to file by completing Form 8809, Application for Extension of Time To File Information Returns. Link to Sample Link to IRS Form
- The form may be submitted on paper, or through the FIRE System either as a fill-in form or an electronic file. Link to IRS FIRE System (see also Large Employer Reporting Information Guide)

• EMPLOYER FILING TO IRS - Forms 1094/5-C

Electronic Filing of Forms 1094-C and 1095-C with IRS

- Employers required to file 250 or more information returns must file the forms electronically. The 250-ormore requirement applies separately to each type of form filed and separately for original and corrected returns. For example, if you must file 500 Forms 1095-B and 100 Forms 1095-C, you must file Forms 1095-B electronically, but you are not required to file Forms 1095-C electronically.
- If you have 150 Forms 1095-C to correct, you may file the corrected returns on paper because they fall under the 250 threshold. However, if you have 300 Forms 1095-C to correct, they must be filed electronically.
- The electronic filing requirement does not apply if you apply for and receive a hardship waiver (see below). The IRS encourages you to file electronically even though you are filing fewer than 250 returns.

Waivers

- To receive a waiver from filing information returns electronically, submit Form 8508. Link to Sample Link to IRS form. You are encouraged to file Form 8508 at least 45 days before the due date of the returns, but no later than the due date of the return.
- The IRS does not process waiver requests until January 1st of the calendar year the returns are due. You cannot apply for a waiver for more than one tax year at a time. If you need a waiver for more than one tax year, you must reapply at the appropriate time each year.
- If a waiver for original returns is approved, any corrections for the same types of returns are covered under the waiver. However, if you submit original returns electronically but you want to submit your corrections on paper, a waiver must be approved for the corrections if you must file 250 or more corrections.
- If you receive an approved waiver, do not send a copy of it to the service center where you file your paper returns. Keep the waiver for your records only.

EMPLOYERFURNISHING FORMSTO EMPLOYEES

Furnishing Forms 1095-C to Employees/Non-Employee Participants

- To avoid penalties due to late distribution of Form 1095-C, employers must properly address and mail the Form 1095-C on or before the due date.
- Employers must furnish a Form 1095-C to each of its full-time employees by January 31 of the year following the year to which the Form 1095-C relates (see extension for 2020).
 - o If the due date falls on a weekend or legal holiday, then the due date is the following business day. A business day is any day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday.
- Forms 1095-C for the 2020 calendar year must be furnished by March 2, 2021.
- Filers of Form 1095-C may truncate the social security number (SSN) of an individual (the employee or any family member of the employee receiving coverage) on Form 1095-C statements furnished to employees by showing only the last four digits of the SSN and replacing the first five digits with asterisks (*) or Xs.
 - o Truncation is not allowed on forms filed with the IRS. In addition, an ALE Member's EIN may not be truncated on the statements furnished to employees or the forms filed with the IRS.
- Except as explained below, statements must be furnished on paper by mail (or hand delivered), unless the recipient affirmatively consents to receive the statement in an electronic format (see more information about the requirements at the VEHI website link). If mailed, the statement must be sent to the employee's last known permanent address, or if no permanent address is known, to the employee'stemporary address.

Cracking the Codes

Line 14 - "Offer of Coverage"

Insert a code from the list below that describes the offer of coverage status for the employee.

employee.
1A.	Qualifying Offer: Minimum essential coverage providing minimum value offered to full-time employee with Employee Required Contribution equal to or less than 9.5% (as adjusted) of mainland single federal poverty line and at least minimum essential coverage offered to spouse and dependent(s). This code may be used to report for specific months for which a Qualifying Offer was made, even if the employee did not receive a Qualifying Offer for all 12 months of the calendar year. However, an ALE Member may not use the Alternative Furnishing Method for an employee who did not receive a Qualifying Offer for all 12 calendar months.
1B.	Minimum essential coverage providing minimum value offered to employee only.
1C.	Minimum essential coverage providing minimum value offered to employee and at least minimum essential coverage offered to dependent(s) (not spouse).
1D.	Minimum essential coverage providing minimum value offered to employee and at least minimum essential coverage offered to spouse (not dependent(s)). Do not use code 1D if the coverage for the spouse was offered conditionally. Instead, use code 1J.
1E.	Minimum essential coverage providing minimum value offered to employee and at least minimum essential coverage offered to dependent(s) and spouse. Do not use code 1E if the coverage for the spouse was offered conditionally. Instead, use code 1K.
1F.	Minimum essential coverage NOT providing minimum value offered to employee; employee and spouse or dependent(s); or employee, spouse, and dependents.
1G.	Offer of coverage for at least one month of the calendar year to an individual who was not an employee for any month of the calendar year or to an employee who was not a full-time employee for any month of the calendar year (which may include one or more months in which the individual was not an employee) and who enrolled in self-insured coverage for one or more months of the calendar year. Note. Code 1G applies for the entire year or not at all. Therefore, if code 1G applies, an ALE Member must enter code 1G on line 14 in the "All 12 Months" column or in each separate monthly box (for all 12 months).
1H.	No offer of coverage (employee not offered any health coverage or employee offered coverage that is not minimum essential coverage, which may include one or more months in which the individual was not an employee).
11.	Reserved for future use.
1J.	Minimum essential coverage providing minimum value offered to employee and at least minimum essential coverage conditionally offered to spouse; minimum essential coverage not offered to dependent(s). (See Conditional offer of spousal coverage , earlier, for an additional description of conditional offers.)
1K.	Minimum essential coverage providing minimum value offered to employee; at least minimum essential coverage offered to dependents; and at least minimum essential coverage conditionally offered to spouse. (See Conditional offer of spousal coverage , earlier, for an additional description of conditional offers.)
1L.	Individual coverage HRA offered to employee only with affordability determined by using employee's primary residence location ZIP code.
1M.	Individual coverage HRA offered to employee and dependent(s) (not spouse) with affordability determined by using employee's primary residence location ZIP code.
1N.	Individual coverage HRA offered to employee, spouse, and dependent(s) with affordability determined by using employee's primary residence location ZIP code.
10.	Individual coverage HRA offered to employees only using the employee's primary employment site ZIP code affordability safe harbor.
1P.	Individual coverage HRA offered to employee and dependent(s) (not spouse) using the employee's primary employment site ZIP code affordability safe harbor.
1Q.	Individual coverage HRA offered to employee, spouse, and dependent(s) using employee's primary employment site ZIP code affordability safe harbor.
1R.	Individual coverage HRA that is NOT affordable offered to employee; employee and spouse, or dependent(s); or employee, spouse and dependents.
1S.	Individual coverage HRA offered to an individual who was not a full-time employee.

1L, 1M, 1N, 1O, 1P, 1Q, 1R, and 1S are new codes related to individual coverage HRAs. None of the plans offered by VEHI are individual coverage HRAs, so these codes will NOT apply.

ALE IRS Reporting Toolkit

Line 15- Employee Contribution

Line 15 is used by the IRS to determine affordability of group health plan coverage to the employee. It is also the amount used by SDs/SUs when determining if health coverage is affordable to the employee using the affordability safe harbors available to employers.

VEHI makes available four group health plan options for employees to choose the level of coverage with which they are the most comfortable. Employees also can elect from multiple tiers of coverage; Single, Parent/Child(ren), 2-Person and Family.

Regardless of all of these different employee contribution amounts, the rules require the amount entered on Line 15 be tied to:

- the monthly contribution amount the employee is required to pay for employee-only coverage,
- under the lowest cost qualifying group health plan option available to the employee.

If a health plan option is offered with an HRA, the cost of the coverage should include the employee contribution for the coverage as a package.

In many cases the amount entered on Line 15 will be different than the amount the employee is required to contribute. This is because many employees will elect a more expense group health plan option and/or a higher tier of coverage.

Note: Only complete line 15 if code 1B, 1C, 1D, 1E, 1J, 1K, 1L, 1M, 1N, 1O, 1O or 1Q is entered on line 14. For any month where any other code is entered on Line 14 you do not enter anything on Line 15.

Do not enter 0.00 unless employees are not required to make a monthly contribution for employee-only coverage under the lowest cost qualifying group health plan option.

Line 16 – Enrollment/Affordability

Insert a code from the list below that answers the question, "What happened and why?"

- 2A Employee not employed during the month. Enter code 2A if the employee was not employed on any day of the calendar month. Do not use code 2A for a month if the individual was an employee of the ALE Member on any day of the calendar month. Do not use code 2A for the month during which an employee terminates employment with the ALE Member.
- Employee not a full-time employee. Enter code 2B if the employee is not a full-time employee for the month and did not enroll in minimum essential coverage, if offered for the month. Enter code 2B also if the employee is a full-time employee for the month and whose offer of coverage (or coverage if the employee was enrolled) ended before the last day of the month solely because the employee terminated employment during the month (so that the offer of coverage or coverage would have continued if the employee had not terminated employment during the month).
- Employee enrolled in health coverage offered. Enter code 2C for any month in which the employee enrolled for each day of the month in health coverage offered by the ALE Member, regardless of whether any other code in Code Series 2 might also apply (for example, the code for a section 4980H affordability safe harbor) except as provided below. Do not enter code 2C on line 16 for any month in which a terminated employee is enrolled in COBRA continuation coverage or other post-employment coverage (enter code 2A).
- Employee in a section 4980H(b) Limited Non-Assessment Period. Enter code 2D for any month during which an employee is in a section 4980H(b) Limited Non-Assessment Period. If an employee is in an initial measurement period, enter code 2D (employee in a section 4980H(b) Limited Non-Assessment Period) for the month, and not code 2B (employee not a full-time employee).
- 4980H affordability rate of pay safe harbor. Enter code 2H if the employer used the section 4980H(b) rate of pay safe harbor to determine affordability for purposes of section 4980H(b) for this employee for any month(s).
- Section 4980H affordability federal poverty line safe harbor. Enter code 2G if the employer used the section 4980H federal poverty line safe harbor to determine affordability for purposes of section 4980H(b) for this employee for any month(s).
- Section 4980H affordability Form W-2 safe harbor. Enter code 2F if the employer used the section 4980H Form W-2 safe harbor to determine affordability for purposes of section 4980H(b) for this employee for the year.

Affordability Safe Harbor Testing

Use of Safe Harbors

Large employers must offer coverage considered 'affordable' to its full-time employees to avoid potential penalties. Affordability is determined on an employee-by-employee basis using the employee's total household income. This is information to which employers do not have access. Employers only have access to income paid by the employer to the employee.

To compensate for the inability of employers to determine precisely an employee's household income, the IRS rules offer employers three 'affordability' safe harbors to determine affordability. The use of the safe harbors is optional, however, failing to use a safe harbor can result in the assessment of a penalty the employer could otherwise avoid. This happens because the total amount of an employee's household income and the number of tax family members can vary widely. An employee making a relatively high income who has multiple dependents can result in the employee's family being unexpectedly eligible for the premium tax credit and/or cost sharing reduction. If the employer uses affordability safe harbors to verify affordability based on one of the safe harbors, the employee's eligibility for the premium tax credit is disregarded for purposes of a penalty.

Conditions to Using an Affordability Safe Harbor

An Employer can use one or more of the affordability safe harbors only if-

- the employer offers its full-time employees and their dependents the opportunity to enroll in minimum essential coverage under an eligible employer-sponsored plan, and
- the coverage provides minimum value with respect to the self-only coverage offered to the employee.

Use of any of the safe harbors is optional for an employer, and an employer may choose to apply the safe harbors for any reasonable category of employees, provided it does so on a uniform and consistent basis for all employees in a category. Reasonable categories generally include:

- · specified job categories,
- nature of compensation (hourly or salary),
- geographic location, and
- similar bona fide business criteria.

A list of employees by name or other specific criteria having substantially the same effect as an enumeration by name is not considered a reasonable category.

Affordability Mothod

ALE IRS Reporting Toolkit

Three Options for Testing

The IRS rules provide three affordability safe harbors to allow employers to meet affordability requirements even though the employers cannot possibly know each employee's household income. The Rate of Pay affordability safe harbor may appear to be the easiest to use. However, depending on the monthly amount your SD/SU requires employees to contribute for employee-only coverage under the Silver CDHP, you may find one of the other methods helpful.

Note: This section is a summary of the affordability safe harbor provisions and does not provide all of the details for using each of the safe harbors to determine affordability. Please see the full Large Employer Reporting Guide - 2020, for more information about using each of the safe harbor provisions.

Three Options for Testing

Affordability Method, Cont.	Description
Form W-2	Compare each applicable employee's expected income to be reported in Box 1 of their W-2 for 2020 to the lowest cost single plan available to that employee. If the employee contribution is less than 9.78% of the expected value to be reported in Box 1 of that employee's W-2, the safe harbor provision may apply to that employee.
	Heads up! Because the W-2 is not produced until after the calendar year ends, it is not possible for an employer to conduct this calculation before the end of the year. Additionally, this test must be conducted for each applicable employee.
	If an employee has not received an offer of coverage for the full calendar year, see the more detailed instructions on determining affordability using this method (Large Employer Reporting Guide - 2020)
Rate of Pay	For each full-time non-exempt employee identify the employee's hourly rate on the first day of the plan year. Multiply the employee's hourly rate by 130 hours to arrive at the starting point. If the employee-only contribution for the lowest cost group health plan option is less than 9.78% of that starting point, the employee's coverage is affordable under the rate of pay safe harbor.
	If the employee is exempt (salaried), divide annual income by 12 to arrive at the starting point.
	Compare 9.78% of the monthly salary with required monthly contribution for the lowest cost single plan. If the employee contribution is less than the test value, safe harbor provisions may apply.
	Heads up! If you have multiple contribution structures for different classes of employees, repeat this process for each class of employees.
	If the employee's rate of pay or monthly salary changes during the year, see the more detailed instructions on determining affordability using this method (Large Employer Reporting Guide - 2020)

Form 1095-C Examples

Form 1095-C Examples

About The Examples

The reason large employers (at least 50 FT/FTEs) are required to file Form 1095-C is to 'certify' to the IRS the extent to which the employer complies the employer shared responsibility mandate. The information also assists the IRS in determining the taxpayers who may be eligible for the premium tax credit available through the state marketplaces. The important factors are:

- Did the employer offer 95% of its full-time employees minimum essential coverage meeting minimum value requirements and offer those same employees at least the opportunity to enroll dependent children in at least minimum essential coverage.
- Did the employer offer the employee the opportunity to enroll their spouse in at least minimum essential coverage.
- Did the employee (and dependents and spouse, if any) enroll in the coverage offered by the employer.
- Was the coverage offered to the employee considered affordable using one of the affordability safe harbor methods – Federal Poverty Line, Rate of Pay or W-2.

The four plan options offered through VEHI meet the minimum essential coverage and minimum value requirements. All VEHI options allow employees to enroll in coverage for themselves and their eligible dependents. In setting up the examples, we make the following assumptions (unless stated differently in the example):

- the SD or SU offers all eligible employees the opportunity to enroll their eligible dependents.
- the SD or SU uses one or more of the IRS affordability safe harbors to determine the coverage offered to employees is affordable for each employee and, for at least 95% of full-time employees coverage is affordable.
- the SD or SU has established a 'look-back measurement method' policy for employees considered variable hour employees and uses the policy to make initial and ongoing determinations as to the full-time status of these employees.

By making these assumptions we avoid having to repeat this background information for each of the examples. If you have questions about any of these assumptions contact GBS at VEHIhelp@ajg.com.

Examples for VEHI Members

Example 1 - Full time & participating all year

Facts

- Suzy Smith is a full time employee working for School District ABC, a large district participating in VEHI.
- Suzy participated in family coverage for the entire year.
- The lowest cost employee-only coverage option available to Suzy is $50.00 per month, and coverage is affordable based on "rate of pay" safe harbor.

Completing the 1095-C

Reporting Explanation

Suzy's coverage was the same all year (an offer of coverage, the contribution rate, and enrolled status) so we only need to complete the 'All 12 months' boxes on the far left.

- Line 14 1E to indicate that Suzy was offered coverage for herself, her spouse and her dependents.
- Line 15 enter $50, which is the employee contribution for employee-only coverage for the lowest cost plan for which Suzy is eligible.
- Line 16 2C to indicate that Suzy accepted coverage and was enrolled for the entire 12 months.

Part III reflects coverage for Suzy and her family for the entire year.

Example 2 - Part time & participating all year

Facts

- Lisa Jones is a part-time (fewer than 30 hours) employee working for School District ABC, a large district participating in VEHI
- School District ABC offers coverage to part time employees, their spouses and dependents
- Suzy, her spouse and dependents participate in family coverage for the entire year.
- Because Suzy was enrolled in coverage, a Form 1095-C is required to report the coverage information only.

COBRA Reporting Instructions and Examples

COBRA Reporting

Termination of Employment

Self-insured employers must report offers of COBRA coverage. Employers complete Form 1095-C providing COBRA coverage information (enrollment in COBRA coverage). How the Form 1095-C is completed will depend, in part, on whether the employee was covered as an active employee during 2020.

Former employees whose coverage terminated before 2020 and other COBRA-eligible family members electing COBRA will still receive a Form 1095-C providing proof of coverage for the former employee and other covered dependents, as applicable.

Full-Time Status Change to Part-Time Status (not benefit eligible)

In the limited cases where a full-time employee changes status from full-time / eligible for health plan benefits to a part-time position not eligible for health plan benefits, employers will complete Form 1095-C to show COBRA coverage was offered.

For the months the employee was full-time, employers complete Form 1095-C as appropriate for the particular employee. The difference is how an offer of COBRA coverage is reported.

There is a real difference in the coding on the form.

There is a real difference in the coding on the form.

Line 14 - enter 1E in the boxes from January through September – as active employee Suzy was offered family coverage. Since only Suzy enrolled for active coverage, only Suzy is offered COBRA. Thus, Suzy's offer of COBRA is coded 1B. 1B means 'MEC/MV offered to employee only'.

Line 15 - enter $50 to indicate the employee contribution toward the lowest cost employee-only coverage for the January through September boxes. For October through December we enter the employee-only cost of COBRA coverage for the lowest cost plan available to Suzy, in this case $567.90

Line 16 - enter 2C in the boxes from January through September to indicate that Suzy was enrolled in coverage for those months. Because Suzy did not enroll for COBRA coverage, we enter 2B (employee not a full-time employee) for October through December.

Part III reflects Suzy's coverage only while a full-time employee.

Merging Districts

Please Note The Following

- All SDs or SUs that were in operation at any time in 20209 with at least 50 FT/FTEs need to report for all of 2020
- Where SDs or SUs with fewer than 50 FT/FTE merged and where the merged entity had at least 50 FT/FTEs on July 1, the new or continuing entity must begin filing July 1 for the balance of 2020
- Where the operations of any SD/SU ended during 2020, the Form 1095-C is completed for each FT employee for January through June, completing the codes as applicable
- Example: Suzy Smith worked for District XYZ, a small district, and was enrolled in family coverage. Effective 7/1/2020 District XYX merged into District ABC. District XYZ ceased operation 6/30/2020.
- Suzy Smith will receive two forms, one from District XYZ Form 1095-Band one from District ABC, a large employer Form 1095-C.
- District XYZ Form 1095-B

Example 13 – Completing Form 1094-C

Form 1094-C is used as a transmittal form for the Forms 1095-C filed with the IRS. However, the purpose goes beyond just a transmittal form. The information requested on this form is used by the IRS to determine if an employer has met the employer shared responsibility mandate (requirement to offer 95% of all full-time employees qualifying coverage). By signing this form, the signer attests to the accuracy of the information submitted. Note: Part IV of the Form 1094-C is not completed.

Form 1094-C (2020)

Part I – Applicable Large Employer Member (employer) information. The employer and address should match the information entered on the Form 1095-Cs relating to the employer.

The contact name and telephone number should be to a person with the employer who can respond to the IRS with questions about the Form 1094-C and the accompanying Form 1095-Cs.

Lines 18 - 19

In most cases employers will submit all Form 1095-Cs with a single Form 1094-C. If this is the case, Line 18 and Lines 20 should match and Line 19 should be marked indicating the Form 1094-C is the 'authoritative transmittal'. Only one authoritative transmittal should be submitted.

Part II – ALE Member Information (employer)

Line 20

Enter the total number of Form 1095-C being submitted with all 1094-C transmittal forms submitted by the employer.

Line 21

Check this box no.

Line 22

If the employer is using the 'Qualifying Offer Method' or the '98% Offer Method' when submitting Forms 1095-C, the applicable box must be checked.

Part III - This section collects information about the employer's offer of minimum essential coverage (MEC) to full-time employees.

Column (a) – here the employer is asked to indicate during which months the employer offered MEC to at least 95% of all full-time employees. The employer's back-up data and the Forms 1095-C should support a claim of offering 95% of full-time employees coverage for each of the months. If the employer offered coverage to 95% of all full-time employees for all 12 months, the employer checks 'yes' under column (a) on line 23, otherwise the employer checks the applicable box for each of the calendar months.

Column (b) - Employers enter the number of full-time employees for each calendar month of the year.

Column (c) – Employer enters the total number of employees, including full-time employees and non-full-time employees, and employees in a Limited Non-Assessment Period, for each calendar month. Employer must choose one of the following days of the month to determine the number of employees per month and must use that day for all months of the year: (1) the first day of each month, (2) the last day of each month, (3) the 12th day of each month, (4) the first day of the first payroll period that starts during each
